Benefits Buddy
Welcome

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

Choose how to read

Benefits are money from the government to help people.

Recommended
Easy read
Short sentences and pictures to help you understand.

Standard
Read information in the usual way.

Continue with Easy read

You can change this in Reading settings.

Accessibility options

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

‹ Back to reading format

Where in the UK do you live?

Benefits and laws can be different depending on where you live.

Choose one place.

- England
- Scotland
- Wales
- Northern Ireland

Continue

You can change your location later.

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

England | Change

Find information

Find out about benefits and your rights.

Search for a benefit

If you want to type, enter a word below. Then choose Search.

For example: disability benefits

Search

Browse topics

No typing needed. Choose a topic.

- Disability benefits
- Help at work
- Care and support
- Browse all topics

Not sure where to start?

The check-in helps you choose information to read.

Benefits check-in

It does not tell you if you can get benefits.

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

England | Change

Browse topics

Choose a topic. The list is in alphabetical order.

Care and everyday support

Help with daily life, such as preparing food.

Read care and everyday support

Decisions and appeals

An appeal asks for a decision to be looked at again.

Read decisions and appeals

Disability benefits

Government money to help disabled people.

Read disability benefits

Disability rights

Rights are protections in law. They help protect you from unfair treatment.

Read disability rights

Work and employment

Employment means having a paid job. Find help at work.

Read work and employment

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

England | Change

‹ Back to benefits checker

Benefits for children and older people

Some benefits may help children under 16. Others may help people at State Pension age or older.

Benefits depend on your age, support needs and where you live. Other rules apply too.

Disability Living Allowance (DLA) for children

DLA is money that may help with the extra costs of caring for a disabled child under 16.

The child may have difficulty walking.

Or they may need much more care than a child of the same age without a disability.

Other rules apply. The official guidance explains who can get DLA and how to apply.

Read about DLA on GOV.UK

External site: gov.uk

Attendance Allowance

Attendance Allowance may help with extra costs if you are at State Pension age or older.

It is for people who need help with personal care or supervision because of a disability or health condition.

Supervision means someone helping to keep you safe.

It does not cover help with getting around. This is also called mobility.

Other rules apply. The official guidance explains who can get it and how to apply.

Read about Attendance Allowance on GOV.UK

External site: gov.uk

What is State Pension age?

State Pension age is when you can start getting your State Pension. It depends on your date of birth.

Check your State Pension age

External site: gov.uk

If you live in Scotland

In Scotland, apply for Child Disability Payment or Pension Age Disability Payment instead.

Child Disability Payment
Instead of DLA for children.

Pension Age Disability Payment
Instead of Attendance Allowance.

Use Change by your location to choose another part of the UK.

‹ Back to benefits checker

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

England | Change

‹ Back to Home

Search results

You searched for:
"disability benefits"

Edit search

3 guidance pages to explore.

Benefits Buddy guide · In this app
Disability benefits
A short guide to finding official information and how to apply

Read our guide

Official government website
GOV.UK disability benefits
Official information about disability benefits.

Visit GOV.UK

External site: gov.uk

Independent advice website
Citizens Advice benefits guide
Information for sick or disabled people and carers.

Visit Citizens Advice

External site: citizensadvice.org.uk

Prefer to choose from a list?

Browse topics

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

England | Change

‹ Back to topics

Disability benefits

Disability benefits are government money to help disabled people.

Each benefit has its own rules.

What does eligibility mean?

1. Read the official guidance

For England, start with GOV.UK. Read the full page for the benefit.

Official government website
GOV.UK disability benefits
The UK government website has official benefits information.

Visit GOV.UK

External site: gov.uk

2. Check the nation covered

Check that the page covers England. Rules can differ across the UK.

3. Check how to apply

Apply means asking to get a benefit.

Follow the steps on the official page. Check what information you need to send.

Help to understand the rules

Independent advice website
Citizens Advice
Read guidance for sick or disabled people and carers.

Visit Citizens Advice

External site: citizensadvice.org.uk

Not sure what to read?

Benefits checker

The checker suggests information. It does not decide if you can get benefits.

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

England | Change

‹ Back to Home

Benefits checker

This helps you choose information to read.

It does not decide if you can get a benefit. This is not an official assessment.

Some benefits may help children under 16. Other benefits may help people at State Pension age or older. State Pension age is usually 65

Benefits for children and older people

Choose one or more statements that apply to you

- [x] I need help with daily tasks
- [x] I need help getting around
- [ ] I need help at work
- [ ] I am not sure

See guidance

Back

You can change your answers.

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

England | Change

‹ Back to benefits checker

Information to explore

This is a guide, not a benefits decision or legal advice. It does not tell you if you can get benefits.

You selected

I need help with daily tasks.

I need help getting around.

Change answers

Change location

What to read next

Disability benefits guidance is a place to learn about support with daily life and getting around.

Read disability benefits guide

Official government website
GOV.UK disability benefits
Read the rules for each benefit. Check the page covers England.

Visit GOV.UK

External site: gov.uk

Independent advice website
Citizens Advice
Read more about benefits and where to get advice.

Visit Citizens Advice

External site: citizensadvice.org.uk

Follow the application steps on the official benefit page.

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

England | Change

‹ Back to your guide

Words explained

Choose a word to read its meaning. Words are in alphabetical order.

Appeal
Ask for a decision to be looked at again.

Apply
Ask to get a benefit.

An application can include a form.

Benefits
Money from the government to help people.

Eligibility
Whether someone meets the rules for a benefit.

Benefits Buddy does not decide this.

Government
The people who run the country and make decisions about public services.

Rights
Protections you have in law, such as protection from unfair treatment.

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

England | Change

‹ Back to your page

Reading settings

Choose how information looks and sounds.

Text size

- Large
- Larger

Contrast

- Normal contrast
- High contrast

Reading format

- Standard
- Easy read

Read aloud

Stopped

Play read aloud

Stop read aloud

Sample preview

Benefits are money from the government to help people.

Back to your page

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home

Benefits Buddy
Easy read

Home | Browse | Help

Read aloud | Reading settings

England | Change

Help with information

You can ask someone you trust to read with you.

Ways to read

- Read aloud
- Words explained
- Change reading format
- Text size and contrast

Official information and advice

Check which part of the UK each page covers.

Official government website
GOV.UK disability benefits
Official government guidance about disability benefits.

Visit GOV.UK

External site: gov.uk

Official government website
GOV.UK financial support finder
Explore government information about financial support.

Visit GOV.UK

External site: gov.uk

Independent advice website
Citizens Advice
The main Citizens Advice website. Find information and advice.

Visit Citizens Advice

External site: citizensadvice.org.uk

Benefits Buddy gives information. It is not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Information only. Not legal advice or an official benefits decision.

Home